The Triennial Conclave of the Knights Templars has just closed. It has been a gala week for our city. The decorations and illuminations at night have been wonderfully artistic and effective. The parade on Tuesday, which lasted for three hours, was witnessed by hundreds of thousands, and of course, all the deafs saw it too. Enjoyment of a parade is strictly in their line. The great jeweled cross, 40 feet high, on the Olympic, sparkled and glittered at night. True Partridge, who is a Knight Templar of Bethlehem Commandery, took part in the parade.

CORNING MAN PRESENTED WITH GOLD KNIFE BY HIS DEAF FRIENDS

Mr. and Mrs. Martin R. Minkle and their daughter, Jessie, of Chestnut Street, returned home yesterday from Rome, where they attended the 50th anniversary celebration of the founding of Central New York

School for the Deaf last week.

About 500 deaf people from East and West, South and North attended. Many Mr. Minkle had not seen for 30 or 40 years since he graduated. He and his family enjoyed the visit and trip immensely. About 40 years ago, Martin Minkle operated a printing shop of his own and taught the deaf the work at school for 12 years. He published the Register, which is still being printed. He sold the press and all equipment to the school when he left Rome. The paper is called Deaf Register. He was first president of his Alma Maler, Rome Alumni Association, for two terms. Mr. Minkle was given a beautiful gold pocket knife as a token, being the oldest deaf person of that school, of which he is very proud. THE National Association of the Deaf has been quite active during the months that have passed since last Convention.

President Roberts enlightens the public through an official letter in this week's JOURNAL.

The Association has consistently looked after the rights of the deaf in different contingencies. Auto drivers' licenses have been granted to deaf-mutes, and their rights in this line conceded by every State in the Union except Maryland. A campaign of educating the public as to capabilities of the deaf has been waged in several communities where their rights were threatened.

Those who neglect to become members of the Association are not only very selfish but very short sighted.

The next great event under the auspices of the Association, is the unveiling exercises attendant upon of the Gallaudet Memorial Statue, which has been erected in front of the new Institution at Hartford, Ct. THE selection of Ebert A. Gruver to succeed the late Dr. A. L. E. Crouter as the head of the Philadelphia Institution at Mt. Airy, will be received with satisfaction. He is not only well acquainted with the needs of the Institution, having taught there for many years, but he comes to the office endowed with a wealth of practical experience, a genial yet dominant disposition, and a broad-minded attitude towards methods of education. He comes from the superintendency of the Iowa Institution, and has been successively and successfully superintendent of the Institution at Lexington Avenue and 67th Street, New York City, and the Central New York Institution at Rome.

E A. GRUVER, OF IOWA INSTITU TION, SUCCEEDS THE LATE DR A. L. E. CROUTER

To fill the vacancy in the office of Superintendent of the Pennsylvania Institution for the Deaf, Mount Airy, occasioned by the death of Dr. A. L. E Crouter, the Board of Directors of the Institution has elected E A. Gruver, now Superintendent of the Iowa Institution for the Deaf, Council Bluffs, Iowa,

Dr. Crouter, who died in June, was head of the Pennsylvania Institution since 1884. The new superintendent is a na tive of Pennsylvania, being a son of a Lutheran clergyman and a graduate of Gettysburg College. After his graduation from the College, about thirty years ago, he became a teacher of the deaf at the Penn sylvania Institution, Mount Airy, under Dr. Crouter. Later he was superintendent of two New York schools for the deaf. He has been Superintendent of the Council Bluffs Institution for twelve years and has attained marked success in his work. The faculty at the Mount Airy Institution are all greatly pleased by the selection of Mr. Gruver as superintendent. He expects to assume his new duties in October. The Institution will be reopened the second week of September. T. Lyman Steed, assistant superintendent, will be in charge until Mr. Gruver arrives .- Germantown Independent Gazette, August 6, 1925 .-It is reported that Mr. Gruver, the new Superintendent-elect, was in Philadelphia the past week on matters in connection with his new position, which he will assume in October. The selection of Mr. Gruver as the head of the Pennsylvania Institution, one of the largest, if not the largest, institution of the kind in the United States, seems to be generally satisfactory to the deaf bere, although some had looked to Mr Steed as the natural successor to Dr. Crouter, by virtue of his position as Assistant Superintendent. Mr. Steed is a comparatively young man, however; and therefore it is not surprising that the Board of Directors should elect to entrust the destiny of the largest school for the deaf to an older and more experienced man. The selection of Mr. Gruver may also mean that the Board of Directors deemed it wise to bring to the Institution as its head an entirely new man, such as Mr. Gruver is, and some consideration may also have been given to the fact that he is a of rheumatism in the left arm. native of the Keystone State and was

TO THE LEGISLATIVE COMMITTEE OF THE GEORGIA SCHOOL FOR THE DEAF.

GENTLEMEN :- We, the undersigned deaf citizens of the State of Georgia, re-presenting the Georgia Association of the Deaf, present to you the following petition the request that you give earnest consideration to its contents.

We wish to call your attention to the wretched condition of the State School for the Deaf, at Cave Spring. Not only are the buildings in a dilapidated condition and sadly in need of repair, but the me-thod of education pursued there is if far from satisfactory. The tendency is to-ward the pure oral method, which we regard as vicious, inasmuch as it narrows and retards the intellectual developmen of those so taught, because teachers refuse to make use of the natural lauguage of the deaf. It is usually five years before the average deaf child can use speech intelli-gently and then only in a limited way. At the same time his general education has been neglected. At the end of five years many parents take their children out of school. They wonder why the child has such a miserable jargon instead of the fluent speech, which the pure oral advocates had led them to expect.

What we want continued in the school is the combined system of instruction. particular case. The brochure accom as to what the oral method and the comread it carefully.

WHAT WE WOULD SUGGEST IS :-

(1) The continuance of the combined or twenty oral classes and only two manual classes—but an equal number of each. This can only be brought about by the removal of the Assistant Principal

(2) The appointment of men as Trustees who are thoroughly conversant with the needs of the deaf in the matter of education. This eliminates the politicians and politics from the school.

(3) The law to be so amended that Trustees may be appointed for two, four and six years, respectively, and not for life as at present. A life appointment means moving along in the same old rut year in and year out. (4) That all teachers appointed have a salary to one class as to the other accord-

(6) The resumption of lectures in the sign-language to the pupils in the higher

ILLINOIS

In Illinois, an efficient Traffic committee co-operated with Mr. Codman of the N. A. D Traffic Bureau, and carefully scanned all proposed motor car legislation. The coroner of Cook County, in which Chicago is located, prepared a comprehensive bill aimed to curb the large number of deaths from motor accidents, and several other proposals were introduced, among them one by the powerful Chicago Motor Club. The latter contained a clause entirely favorable to the deaf. But on adjournment of the legislature, nothing had been done in motor car legislation. The present regulations of Illinois place no bar on the deaf.

EUGENICS IN WISCONSIN

Early in the legislative season, he metropolitian papers carried a effect that some would be reformer in the legislature there proposed to introduce an eugenics law, one clause of which would bar marriages of the deaf. Wisconsin has of late years passed some rather drastic, and what some people consider illadvised legislation. An investigation of the dispatch made through Wisconsin State officials brought the information that the bill has not at that time been introduced. Watch was kept on the proceedings of the legislature, through a competent agency, but at the time of adjournment nothing untoward had deve-
